

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

1. As we come back after Easter, what has stuck with you either from Lent, Holy Week, or Sunday's service?
2. When you think of the idea that God opens our hearts to receive Him, what comes to mind for you? Is this a challenging concept for you?
3. When you think about your own conversion experience, how did you see God open your heart to Him? If you are not yet a believer, how might you describe God's pursuit of you?
4. James stated that an open heart led to an open home for Lydia. How does radical hospitality shaped you, either by providing it or receiving it?
5. There are many ways that an open heart changes the way we live. One example is hospitality, but what are some other ways that Christians can live out of their open heart that is different?
6. Is there someone in your life who you have been called to be hospitable too? What are some practical ways you can live that out and how might you see that bear fruit?
